

To whom I may concern.

Sitecore has great experiences in working with Codehouse.

In 2002 Codehouse became a Sitecore Certified Solution Partner, and have since that maintained a close and strategic working relationship with Sitecore.

Codehouse has delivered numerous solutions based on Sitecore – both to private companies, public organizations and NGO's. Codehouse holds a strong technical profile, meaning that we at anytime would recommend Codehouse as a relevant partner for complex web-based business solutions founded in or related to Sitecore.

In addition to delivering solutions based on Sitecore CMS, Codehouse has built more of our technical complex modules such as Sitecore LDAP, Sitecore StatCenter and Sitecore Sharepoint Connector.

Also, Codehouse is one of the few partners worldwide allowed to conduct Sitecore Certified training courses - in addition to Sitecore's own trainers – and has done so on countless occasions throughout the world, certifying hundreds of new Sitecore developers, administrators and editors.

Codehouse knows how to tune the Sitecore engine – and to tune it so both technicians and non-technicians knows how to understand and use Sitecore.

We are sure, that you'll get a good and successful Sitecore experience with Codehouse.

With best regards
